Strolling About

We have tried to show some of the well-known scenes which are commonly observed around the campus. As we come to school, we see the familiar old elm tree at the corner of the school grounds. Also, within our vision is the flag pole.

Oh, it's warm this morning so let us take a stroll around the building. Over the mammoth entrance we see our famous motto, "For the Service of Humanity." Next, we gaze upon the cornerstone bearing the numbers which show our building was built in the year 1910. As we approach the back of the building we see the crowded bicycle rack.

Our School

Now, into the building we go and pass Janie's locker and, perhaps, make a date for the all-school party this week-end.

The bell just rang, and we must get to home room after a drink of water. We pass our beloved trophy case and notice on the bulletin board the announcement of the spring play.

We probably don't think much about these things while we are going through school but in later life, we will remember some of these familiar scenes around our fine school. We will leave with this closing thought.

Mr. O. G. Prichard, Principal

Mr. O. G. Prichard, Principal

Much credit should go to our fine principal, Mr. O. G. Prichard, who seldom gets much praise. He is the one who is responsible for all our fine assemblies and programs. The East High spirit seems to be deep-set within him, and he works hard to make our school life helpful and educational. He plans the schedules for all the classes, a tremendous task, but Mr. Prichard performs it with great efficiency.

He guides and directs all the activities during the year and keeps the whole school running smoothly. His example is a fine one for us to follow. "For the Service of Humanity" must certainly be his motto, too.

We feel that Mr. Prichard deserves all the praise possible, and we know that the students of East High certainly do appreciate his conscientious efforts to promote our fine school.

Administrators

If you ever have any problems or misunderstandings, there are three understanding people to whom we can go. They are always willing to hear our troubles and eager to give assistance in any way possible.

Mr. O. G. Prichard, the principal of our school, is well known as a fine, energetic man.

Mr. D. Q. Williams, better known as "Duke," is our capable and understanding boys' advisor. Mr. Williams serves on a ration board here in the city. In addition to his extensive work both for the school and for the city, he administers wonderful guidance for anyone who comes his way. Whenever the boys have difficulties of one kind and another, they have only to go to him, explain the situation, and Mr. Williams is ready with a solution. It is not as simple as it sounds always to be willing to hear the troubles of so many boys in one day.

Miss Agnes Helmreich is the girls' advisor. Girls have many problems about both school and home affairs. She is ever ready to lend an ear, and whatever she decides is for the good of the student every time. Miss Helmreich is the advisor of the student council, school parties, and various other extra-curricular activities. Her duties are many and scattered, but she takes them calmly and does them as they come.

Mr. Williams, Miss Helmreich, Mr. Prichard

Faculty

Our faculty at East High is one that we can always be proud of. There are times, it's true, when there is friction between some pupils and teachers, but as we look back on our instructors of the last three years we can certainly remember them as honest and understanding ones.

Their influence on our lives is great as we are at school so long each day. They contribute greatly to the molding of our characters. They mean more to us than just teachers of certain subjects. Oftentimes they become true friends and advisors in personal matters.

There couldn't be a body of more efficient workers, and they certainly have the interest of the students at heart. So, here's to you, teachers. It is going to be hard to leave you. You are so vital a part of East High.

Quill Staff

The June publication of the Quill has been a semester of work for the staff. The editor, associate editor, and the editors of each section are old members of the staff. The editor, LaVerne Stewart, and the associate editor, Marjorie Rowat, oversee the rest of the staff in addition to organizing the opening section and writing the copy.

The editor of the senior staff is Gene Ellis. On the staff are Willa Bea Stevens, Arthur Sorenson, Barbara Daniels. Their duties are to choose the quotations for the seniors and see that all pictures are in on time.

Gloria Romans is the organizations editor. On the organizations staff is Patricia Tatum, Allen Geyer, John Hedlund, Don Jones, and Betty Barnoski. Gloria's job is to see that her staff does its part in the finished product. Included under organizations are clubs, band, orchestra, play cast, extravaganza, choir, glee clubs, the custodians, and matrons. She must see that the copy for these organizations is in on time in addition to supervising the photographing.

The sports editors are Dick Ingalls and Marie Smith. Ellis Monk helps Dick with the boys' sports. Their duties are to get the sports pictures and write the accompanying copy.

Glenna Groseclose is the feature editor. She and Robert Schmeltzer take care of the calendar and jokes.

Also pictured below are Patricia Johnson and Betty Berggren who conscientiously type the copy for the Quill.

Events of the week - 1960

By Marjorie Rowat and Gloria Romans

Last week there was a lot going on here at East High. There were many alumni visiting the building, and the main highlight of the week was an alumni assembly.

Mr. and Mrs. McClaskey left their home designed by LaVerne Stewart to make a visit to East High. Their home is located at East Tenth & Booth Avenue (named after the prominent statesman, Hollis). They approached the intersection and were escorted safely across the street by Keith Fever, a very kind policeman. They boarded one of those new style buses. It was invented by George Borlin, and any resemblance between the bus and a jeep is purely incidental.

Seated on the bus was Jackson Coffey, who was sailing around town preparing for his trip to China. Walking up and down the aisle peddling his wares was Bob Brauer selling Lenox soap, Brandt cosmetics, Junkins nuts, Pike hair oil, Olson ties, Sandahl balloons, Price window shades, and last but not least, coupons to Woltz Studio. As they gazed through the window they saw Mrs. Dwight Roquet hanging out her washing consisting of red flannels and pink spotted shorts.

The conductor of the new contraption was Mr. Phillip Bane. He whizzed them safely to East Thirteenth & Walker where they rested their eyes on their alma mater for the first time since graduation. The old elm at the corner was finally being chopped down by Bob Nelson. They were greeted in the office by the new registrar, Donna Mae Swertfager, and the office girl, Betty Story. They were surprised to learn that Mr. Arthur W. Sorenson and Juanita C. Larson were the boys' and girls' advisors. The principal, Mr. Wm. Todd cordially welcomed them to our school. They met Mr. Richard Bason, the trigonometry instructor, in the hall. He said there was an alumni assembly scheduled for that morning.

Before they went to the assembly they looked at the solid gold trophy case. Laurel Janice Heiden inherited millions from her rich aunt and has donated it to her dear alma mater.

They went to the auditorium and were ushered to their seats by Ann Barclay and Barbara Bettis. The master of ceremonies for this honored occasion was Vance Walters. Included in the entertainment was Bonnye Casady playing "Rhapsody in Green", Dorris Rasmussen singing "Don't Get Around Much Anymore", Lloyd Speck reviving that old favorite "Mairzy Doats", and Patricia Meier and Shirley Davis doing a bubble dance. Doris Brinkman, who had just won the Pulitzer prize, consented to leave her work and read one of her very own selections, "An Elegy on Cats."

The music for the program was furnished by those name bands, "Baker's Beavers" and "Slocum's Sizzlers."

A skit was presented by the dramatics instructor, Miss Gloria Codner. It was written by that prominent playwright, Robert Schmeltzer.

The famous pair called "The Melodious Morons" (better known as "Shan & Bud") tore themselves away from Radio City and added sparkle to our program of celebrities.

The speaker of the morning was Robert Gordon Barrett the Chief of Police. He spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency—Past, Present, and Future." Also, to give the program a little pep was Lyle Ellis, the wrestling coach and William Eisela, the football coach.

Among the alumnis at the assembly were Miss M. F. VanLiew, the beautiful debutante from Chicago, Catherine Appell and Jean Harper who recently returned from their trip through Africa collecting butterflies.

Also present were Harold E. Powell and Richard E. Simpson proudly wearing their Distinguished Flying Crosses. Others were Barbara Wallner, the woman radio commentator, Betty Jane Tingley, Violet Sweringer, and Beverly Stephenson. It was a great pleasure to have Dagmar Skov and Marian Anderson, the two radio comedians, come and view the program. Miss Marilyn Ritchison was also here, after having graduated from nurses training. She is now to go to Texas and work in a large hospital there. Jack R. Carson, Louis L. Asarch, William H. Cram, James H. Day and E. Weston Hall were at the assembly; all outstanding bachelors of Des Moines.

When they left the assembly, they strolled by the nurse's office and saw a notice that said Doctor William D. Carter was giving senior examinations that day. Mr. & Mrs. McClaskey stopped and had a nice chat with the nurse, Jeanette Yarn.

As they went on, they saw that Morton (always right) Cohen was the new physics professor. Mr. Todd had vainly tried for years to obtain the noted Mr. Cohen to teach physics.

Next, they met the chemistry professor, George (always late) Milne. He had stepped into the shoes of Mr. L. R. Brainard five years ago. Mr. Brainard retired and made his home in Texas where he recently discovered the 93rd element brainium.

After their tour of the first floor, they took their life into their hands and boarded the escalator which has recently been installed by Harold G. VanSickle. Standing at the bottom of the moving stair-way was Raymond Branscomb to collect the toll.

As they fell off the escalator, they heard a tapping from a near-by corner. They waded over a pond of water and noticed that something seemed to be wrong with the drinking fountain. Lo and behold, who should pop his head out from under the pipes but the city's foremost plumber, James Shepard.

As they began their tour of the 2nd floor, they heard the band practicing. Bob said, "My, that doesn't sound like the good old East High Band, does it?" Virginia pertly answered, "Confidentially, I think it sounds better." Well, we won't follow their argument any longer, but at any rate when they got to Room 219, they saw Wm. Shaphren waving his baton to the beat of the band. While they were in that neighborhood, they decided to look into 218 and see how things were getting along. They were floored to learn that Mr. Stratton had finally stepped out of his position as journalism teacher. Yes, he at last left after years of applying for retirement. On the job to fill his shoes, as all you bright students know, is William V. Houser effectively directing the publications of the Scroll and Quill.

Now, the McClaskeys retraced their steps and walked down the glass corridor created by Richard W. Ingalls, towards Mr. Gillham's biology room. Much to their astonishment they saw William Hearshman and Geraldine Price on their knees in the hall. Mr. Todd has hired them to polish locks.

They ended their tour of the second floor at the library, where Miss Phyllis Franklin, the librarian, graciously showed them some of the latest novels by Miss V. E. Craft, Miss B. J. Daniels, and Miss I. M. Abrahamsen. Among the leading male authors are Carl E. Metcalf, Carl Berger, Mellin Franson, Allen Geyer, and Nicholas Joseph DePhillips.

They were afraid to attempt the escalators again, so they hopped on the elevator, run by Mary Ann Franklin. They got off the elevator in front of the Little Theatre, where the "Do You Wear Your Make-Up Rite Club" was listening to a speech by Mr. Hal S. Sweeney. The sponsor of the newly organized club is Miss B. J. Dickey. They looked at the art exhibit enclosed in plastoglass. Instructor of art is Miss C. Anderson.

They saw Miss Warren, the supervisor of the stenographic department, and as they were conferring with her a terrific crash arose from the top of the building. It is rumored that it was that dare-devil flier, Fred Romens again and that he was last seen 1,000 ft. in the air with East High's chimney hanging from the tail of his plane. But before the minute was up the chief of the Fire Department, Alma Miller was up a ladder putting out the fire. You see, women are taking their place in the world.

After all this excitement Bob and Virginia were well ready for lunch. The chief chef was Miss W. B. Stevens, and this being a special alumni day she had thrown together one of her famous concoctions, better known as hash. Also on the menu was beans canned by the Ingle Canning Company, milk furnished by the Stonier Milk Firm, pie from the Heggen Bakery and ice cream from the Kurchinski Ice Cream Company. As they left the cafeteria, they bought a Jensen Jubilee candy bar.

Mr. & Mrs. McClaskey needed a bit of diversion before finishing their day at East High so they decided to see the noon movie. Since the movies are extended to one and a half hours long, they got to the auditorium a little early. Just in time to watch the janitors, James Harold Shelton and John C. Proudfit arrange the new collapsible rocking chairs. They found a seat and were ready to be entertained.

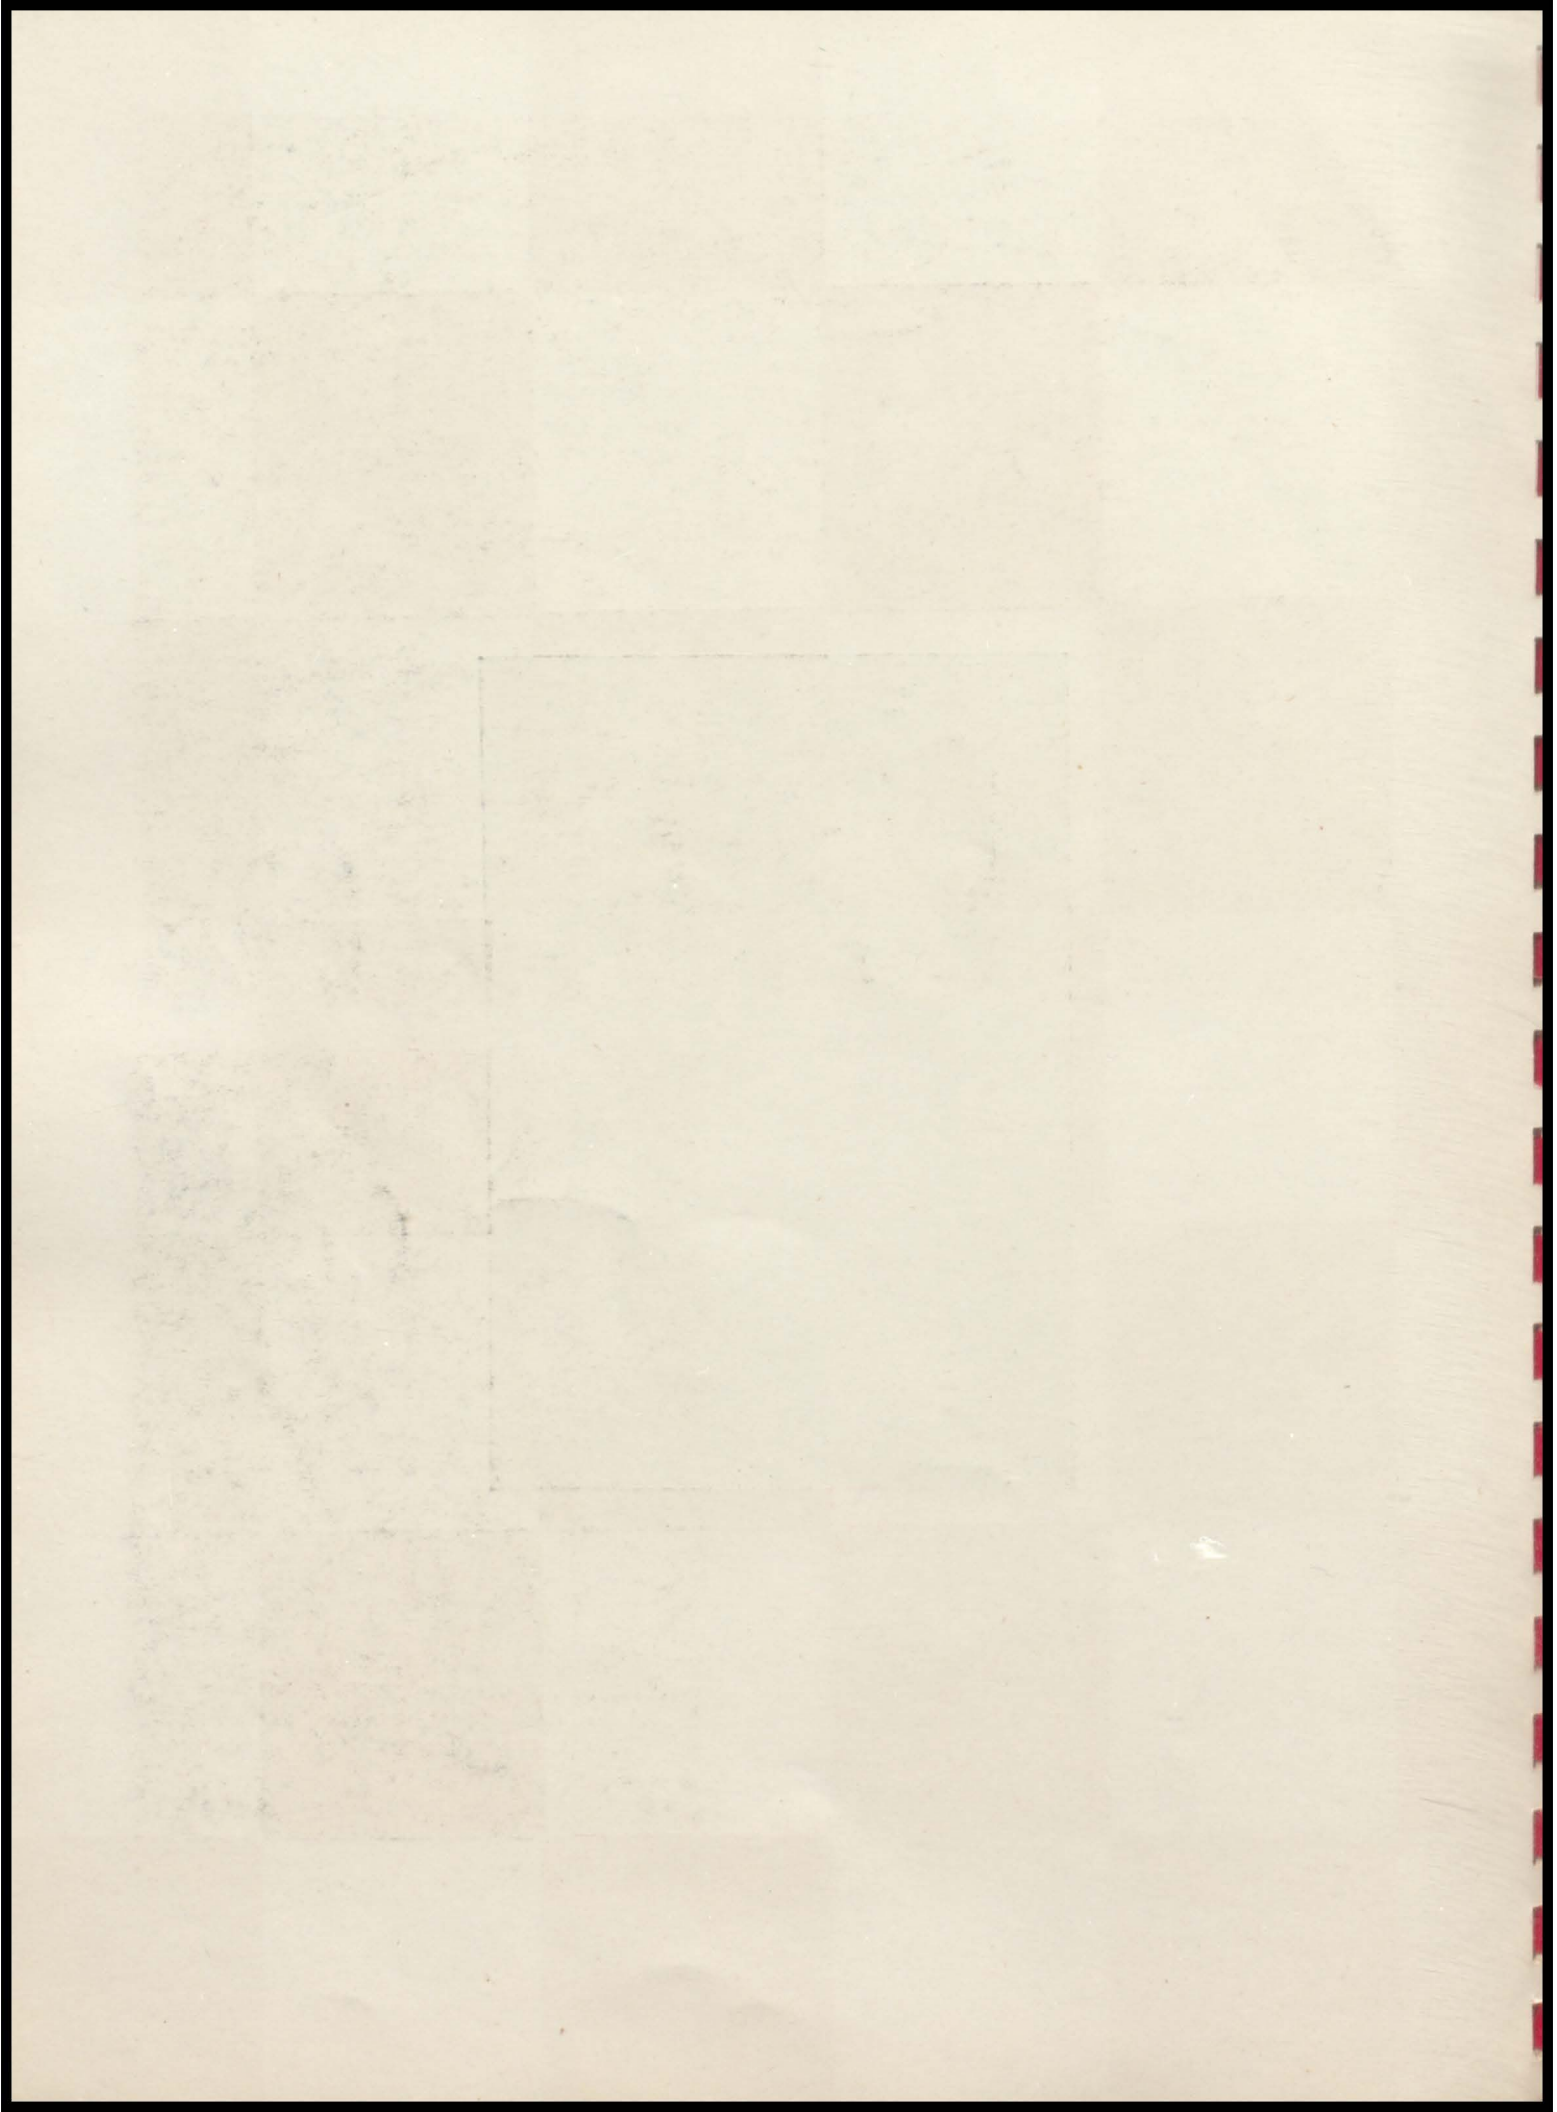

The movie was entitled, "Old Rockin' Chair's Got Me" and featuring Robert Snider and Rosemary Grigsby in the leading roles. The supporting cast consisted of Marie Schauer, Lillian Plude, Jacquelyn Larkin, Don Priebe, Keith Gaar, and Maynard Boatwright. It was shot by the great photographer Thomas McRae. Shown with the movie was a newsreel. It showed Senator Richard Lawrence Wolfe as he stepped from his plane. He had returned from Washington for a small visit to his folks. Also, in the newsreel was Miss Rose Ann Taylor, the prominent young dog trainer. It also showed LeRoy Munger as he ran across the finishing line at the huge track meet in Pittsburgh. He broke the world's record in the two-mile race. Last in the newsreel was Mrs. Helen Crank who had saved the life of Falla the President's dog.

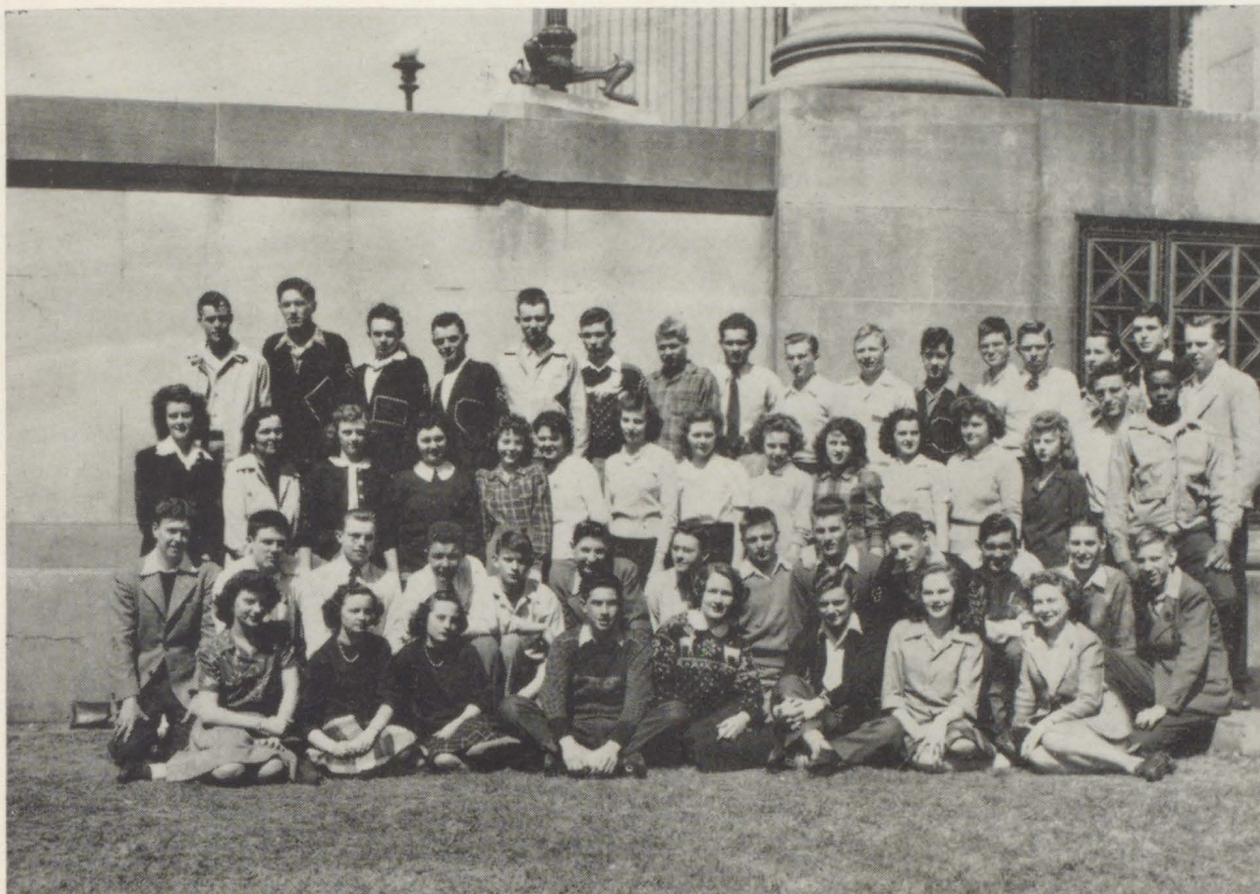

After the movie, they visited the basement class rooms where they found Gene Ellis teaching wood-shop. Miss Gravengaard and Miss Allen are in charge of the home economics department.

Mrs. Lee McQuiston, better known as Betty Dixon was wandering through the halls. She met Bob and Virginia with a fond embrace. She said she had some news to tell them. She revealed the deep dark secret that Miss M. P. VanLiew and Miss B. J. Fort were starting a home for bachelors just across the street from East High. In talking with Mr. & Mrs. McClaskey, Betty suggested they have lunch together at "Spitler's Coffee Shoppe."

After their strenuous day they called for a cab on the new television phone from The Taylor's Telephonevision Corporation. As they left the building they waved to Joan Cowen, who is now running the little cafe north of our building. It has expanded from a small candy shop to an up-and-coming Terrace Cafe. They boarded a taxi cab from the A. W. Nelson Cab Service. It was chauffeured by Mary Olsen.

Student Council

The Student Council is the governing body of East High. We all profit greatly by its help. Under the leadership of Bill Hearshman as president, Harold VanSickle as vice-president, and Von Ellen Craft as secretary, it is doing a great job. There are various committees, headed by able chairmen, who fulfill various duties all over the school. We are very proud of Miss Helmreich, who is the head of this organization. She has done a wonderful job.

And now I'd like to give some good advice to all the 10B's of East High. It is a high honor to be elected by your home room as a student council representative. If you are fortunate enough to be elected, do your job well. Remember you have all of East High to back you up.

SCROLL

It is because of honest and sincere labor that the Scroll flies swiftly into the hands of East High students every other week.

At the executive end of this "corporation," to maintain law and order, we find the very capable Mr. Kenneth Stratton. To complete this executive round table we recognize the artistic minded Miss Harriet Macy and that fine man with a good head for business, Mr. Leslie Olsen. The, shall we say, employees of this firm are students like you and me, with the exception that they have that certain something which goes to make good reporters.

In our estimation, we of the student body of East High School, feel that you, the members and advisers of the Scroll staff, have done an exceedingly fine job of bringing to us the news as we like it.

Band

"Strike Up the Band!"

Sparkling among the many priceless jewels that only East High School possesses, is the Concert Band. Adding to the colorfulness of the band is its likeable director, Mr. Eugene Braught.

From September until June the band, with its 67 members, has definitely had a full schedule, having played for school assemblies, the Annual Spring Festival, P. T. A. Concerts, and various civic gatherings.

To you, the director and members of the band, we give a salute. You have upheld the spirit of East High School admirably and have made your school proud of you.

Orchestra

Among the many groups that make East High the all-around school that it is, is our school orchestra.

Conducted by the musical Mr. Eugene Braught and assisted at the piano by Glenna Groseclose, the orchestra this semester consists of forty-three members. One of the most outstanding appearances the orchestra has made this semester was at the all-city graduating exercises for nurses. Other appearances for the orchestra have been at P. T. A.

All of us who know how much entertainment is provided by the orchestra appreciate and say thank you to it for its support to the school.

Movie Staff. While we are enjoying a movie, Chuck Bates, Jack Rider, Bob Snider, Gene Faust, and Tom MacRae are up in that small, hot house booth (of course not all at once) running the film. Their sponsor, Mr. Stephens, says that they are a fine dependable corps of boys.

Wardrobe Girls. An important cog in the tremendous wheel of a stage production is that of costuming. It's nice to say, though, that here at East High costuming has never been a problem.

Nearly as important as a class in Algebra, is the job of the Wardrobe Girls, who, under the direction of Miss Stella Hargis, work many long hours in the costume room. Miss Hargis, along with Norma Kramme, Margaret Smith, and Dorothy Kahler, has done an excellent job caring for our school's extensive wardrobe department.

Stage Hands. There's a mighty fine group of boys who cooperate with Mr. A. G. Hostetter in assisting on the stage. The average student little realizes how much work goes on behind the scenes. An equally fine bunch of boys assume the duties of an electrician. This work has been under the capable direction of Mr. Wilbur Yount.

Glee Clubs and Choir

Of the various departments at East High it is the music department from which we hear the most. As a result of many hours of consistent practice, the vocal-music department has produced a fine, polished choir and glee clubs. It is a worth while organization such as the choir, directed by Miss Sigrid Greenhill, that represents our school and helps give a unique and great meaning to the words "East High School."

The choir, with sixty-six members, contains chiefly those who are enrolled in glee clubs. During its school year program the choir takes part in the Christmas Pageant and in other musical activities both in and outside of school. The choir is the most advanced of our musical clubs.

The Boys' Glee Club offers an excellent opportunity for the fellows who have musical ability. At present there are twenty-four boys enrolled in glee club. A fine male quartette has developed from this group. Its members are Arthur Sorenson, Harlan Benshoof, Wendell Southard, and Lloyd Speck.

The Girls' Glee Club runs a good equal to the Boys'. There are forty-two girls enrolled this semester. They have been as busy as bees working on new, old, classical, and popular numbers.

Library Staff

The library assistants perform a valuable service to the students of East High by helping them find material in the library. These assistants, chosen from among those students who apply for a library position, relinquish their time in study hall to do this work.

In addition to finding reference material, the students check out books, check in returned books, place them back on the shelves, keep the room in order, and check the shelves to see that books are in their proper places.

The boys in the bookroom are also members of the staff, which is under the direction of Miss Carrie Larson, school librarian.

Clerical Staff

Collecting absence slips, taking special announcements to the classrooms, typing, filing, answering the phone, taking dictation, mimeographing, and answering questions, are but a few of the many duties of the hard working clerical staff. These students work in the offices of Miss Helmreich, Mr. Williams, Mr. Prichard, and Mrs. Clark.

Students chosen for the clerical staff should be taking business and commercial courses, and must be able to take dictation and to type. By working in the different offices, the clerical staff relieves the regular office staff of many duties while gaining valuable experience in office work.

East High is proud of this loyal, industrious group.

Rifle Club

The Rifle Club is one of the many interesting Clubs in school. The Club tries to train the members in the principles of firing a rifle.

This semester, under the capable leadership of Mr. C. G. Reed, the club is sponsoring a small arms school with Mr. Reed as instructor. The members with sharpshooter ratings act as assistant instructors. The purpose of this school is to teach boys how to be better marksmen.

Castle and Checkers Club

The Castle and Checkers Club is an organization of boys who meet to clash wits on the chess and checker boards. An exceedingly steady attendance this semester has given the boys strong competition for their contests.

Chess is primarily a game of skill, strategy, and little chance. Checkers is given added punch by the "experts" in the Club.

The officers of the Club are Phil Bane, president; Charles Bates, vice-president; Jack Coffey, secretary; and Bill Shaphren, treasurer. The able adviser is Mr. J. A. Seevers.

Zetagathean Club

The Zetagathean Club, one of the oldest organizations of its kind in East High, is under the direction of Miss Christine Smith. The Club has an enrollment of forty-five girls, eight of whom are new members.

A committee of five girls is appointed to plan each meeting. In the future, they plan to have a pot luck supper, with each girl bringing a guest.

For their last meeting of the semester, they have planned a picnic.

Latin Club

From initiation at the beginning of the semester, to the election of officers during the last meeting, the Latin Club members enjoy themselves tremendously. The officers plan the semester program, usually placing a few members in charge of several of the meetings. Tricky games are played, reports are given, and a big Roman Banquet is held at the end of the semester. From the background, Miss Cummings, the sponsor, advises and helps the members.

Monitors

The boys and girls sitting around the halls during class periods are not trying to gyp, nor are they merely getting out of gym or study hall, and you might add, that they are not studying either.

But it is wrong to leave it there because these students are doing a very difficult task. When a bunch of boys and girls who consider themselves of great importance try to get through the hall without a slip, just try to hold them back all by yourself. It isn't easy.

Not everyone can be a monitor, it is true, but the various sponsors choose the students they believe to be the most trustworthy and responsible. The monitor is responsible for keeping the hall quiet and orderly while classes are in session. All of the students should do their best to cooperate with the monitors by always having a pink slip signed by the issuing teacher. Remember, it's your hard luck if you don't.

Hi Y

The Hi Y is an organization of the boys of East High, who meet every Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A., at 7:00 p. m. The purpose of the Hi Y is to teach the boys clean speech, clean living, and clean sports. Although Mr. Fred Pennington, the adviser, is teaching at North High this semester, he continues to aid the boys.

The programs this semester have varied but have dealt primarily with the war and health. One meeting was devoted to the discussion of the proposed curfew. Speakers have included an Austrian refugee, an F. B. I. man, two Japanese jujitsu experts and many others. The officers of the club this year are Art Sorensen, president; Phil Bane, vice-president; Shan Holsinger, secretary; and Charles Bates, treasurer.

Girl Reserves

A popular girls' club of the school is the Girl Reserves, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. The club, having access to the Y. W. C. A., holds many parties and dances there, where the girls can get acquainted and have a good time. The club has interesting visiting speakers who talk on such subjects as modeling, beauty care, and entrance requirements into branches of the auxiliary services.

The mottoes of the club, "To face life squarely" and "To find and give the best," are symbolic of the life that these girls intend to live. This club is one of the best in making a wholesome girlhood for all members.

The club officers are: Edith McKinney, president; Margaret Smith, secretary-treasurer; and Nona Council, Inter-club council member.

"JUNE MAD"

Truly refreshing to our sense of humor, was the spring play presented by East High students on Friday and Saturday, April 14 and 15 at 8 p.m.

Most appealing was Gloria Codner filling the role of Penny Woods, a fifteen-year-old, "June Mad," girl. Equally fine were each of the members of the cast. We especially tip our hat to "Elmer," Don Weaver; "Effie," Mildred Hines; "Chuck Harris," Don Glenn; and to Jim Hedlund who acted his part like a veteran.

With the help of Phyllis Franklin, student director, Mrs. Laser has done a grand job of giving to us the kind of entertainment we like. Everyone who witnessed the play will agree that it was one of the best comedies presented at East High.

VOD-VIL SHOW

Practically all of East High, and many of our neighbors, turned up at the sparkling extravaganza called the "Vod-Vil Varieties."

It was an immediate success, as we all know. At first, there was a fear of not having enough participants, but that was soon vanished. There were many acts and all of them were tops. A new kind of an M. C. was invented. Instead of one person, they cleverly thought of having two persons speak together. These persons were filled by Gloria Codner and Shirley Chinn, who did a very good job.

All in all, we enjoyed the stage show immensely and want to thank all the students who took part.

McLaughlin, Hedlund, Chinn, Shepard, Glenn, Coffey, Codner, VanLiew, Carter, Franklin, Hines, Weaver.

Sub Deb Club

The aim of the Sub Deb Club is the betterment of each member. We want each girl to feel that she is a part of the club and to take part in its activities.

The meetings are planned around pamphlets obtained from the Ladies' Home Journal. A new committee is appointed to plan each meeting.

Before the Club year is over, we plan to have a picnic with another Club as our guests.

Ushers

Serving the school is an indispensable group of boys known as "ushers." Their job not only consists of securing seats for people but includes passing out programs and many other innumerable duties. Their friendly smiles and splendid manners make everyone feel comfortable. Directed by Mr. Stevens these boys are doing a most admirable job.

El Circulo Espanol

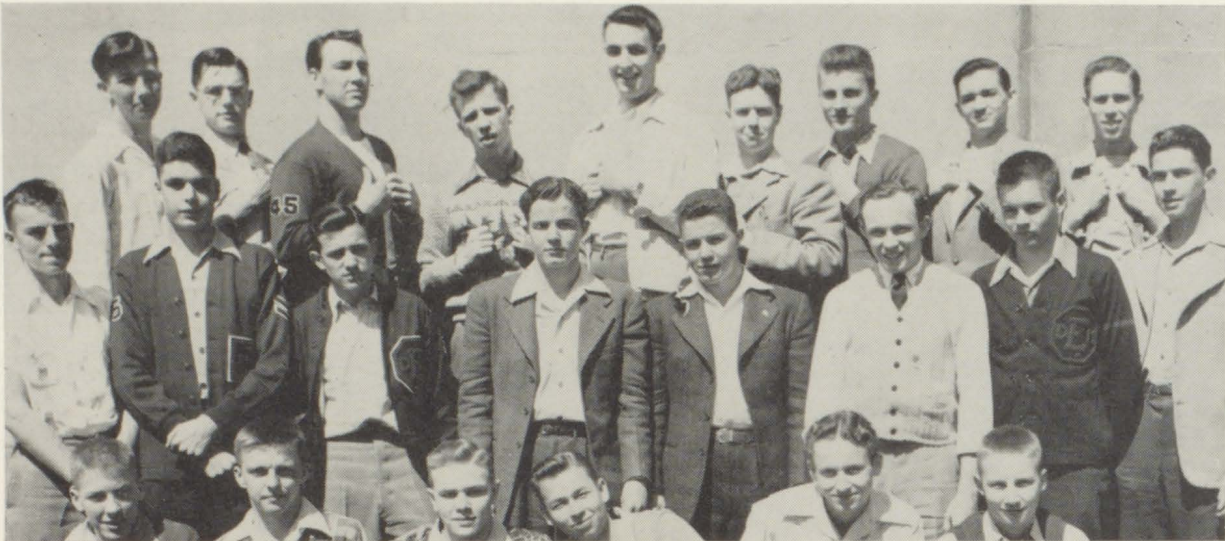

The fifty members of the Spanish Club, which was organized for students who are taking or who have taken Spanish, play many interesting Spanish games and sing songs in Spanish adapted to the Spanish from the English. This year the club is planning to have a dinner consisting of typical dishes eaten by the natives of the Spanish speaking countries.

The officers of the club are Willa Bea Stevens, president; Colleen Haley, vice-president; Geraldino Sucre, secretary; and Marilyn Ritchison, treasurer. Miss Frances Brewer is the sponsor of the club.

5 G's

This semester the girls have organized a strange and secret organization known as the 5 G's Club. With the capable assistance of Miss Grace McEniry, the sponsor, this club has completed a very successful semester.

After a great deal of snooping we discovered the club is a lot like the Sub Deb and the Zeta-gathean clubs. Only girls in the 11th and 12th grades who are willing to help keep this club a secret are eligible to join. The officers this semester are Eleanor Uffleman, president; Dorothy Filliman, secretary; and Darlene Epps, treasurer.

"E" Men's Club

The "He-Men" (or athletes) of our school are organized into the "E" Men's Club. The purpose of the club is to further the sports of East High. All members must be good students and athletes with at least 200 points. Directing the boys through a successful semester is Mr. Brainard, the club adviser.

The programs this semester have been very general, ranging from speeches to movies or sports and the armed forces. The officers for this semester are Harold Sandin, president, John Englund, vice-president; George Carlson, secretary; and Carl Metcalf, treasurer.

Special Interest

What's your special interest?—Food—Women—Dancing—Bowling? All these are activities engaged in by the members of the Special Interest Club. Each year they plan something new and different to do: Scrambled egg parties—dances, trips to Still college, pot-luck suppers, movies, all these and many more too. The club meets about any place that's handy. Some of the places include the third floor corridor and Room 216.

Guiding these activities into happy channels are Mr. Wilbur Yount, the advisor; Gerry Price, president; Mary Cunningham, vice-president; Barbara Daniels, secretary; and Inger Abrahamsen, treasurer.

10B Girls

The purpose of the 10-B girls club is to acquaint our sophomore girls with East High School. They meet once a month to plan various social activities such as parties, dances, and dinners. They believe that these activities will enhance their enjoyment of school life in the future.

This club, newly organized this semester is under the sponsorship of seven of our senior girls. The club is divided into three groups. In charge of these groups are Barbara Daniels, Jeanette Yarn, Phyllis Gravengaard, Von Ellen Craft, Patty Meier, Shirlee Davis, and Betty Dixon.

Fellowship Groups

The Fellowship Groups meet each day during the lunch hours in Room 120. The members read and study the Bible, sing choruses, have prayer, and have guest speakers. A different member plans the meetings for each week. The groups, being interdenominational, have ministers from different religious sects as speakers.

Each month the Fellowship groups from all of the junior and senior high schools of Des Moines meet at the Y. M. C. A. A fine time is enjoyed by everyone, playing games, presenting programs, and singing. Several of these fun-times have been managed by our athletic Bill Houser. It's interesting to become acquainted with Christian young people from other schools in the city.

The Y. M. C. A. has been very cooperative with this group, to the extent that it has permitted them to come in and enjoy themselves evenings each month.

The presidents of the first and second lunch hour groups are Virginia Nine and Bob Mohr. Miss Agnes Helmreich sponsors the groups.

Each month the groups from the different senior and junior high schools have a city-wide Fellowship party at the Y. M. C. A.

Brush and Palette

The purpose of the Brush and Palette is to instill a greater appreciation of art in its members. This is accomplished by practicing the various skills such as sculpturing, the making of plastic moulds, wood carving, and paintings and drawings of every type. Any student enrolled in East High is eligible and welcome to join this organization. The club usually culminates its semester activities by giving a party for the members.

At the end of each semester the members appoint the officers for the coming year. The current officers are as follows: Phyllis Futchell, president; Gloria Johnson, vice-president; and Tilhan Young, secretary.

Assembly Ushers

"For many years," states Mr. Daniel Wilson, teacher of history, "Room 104 has at the request of Mr. Prichard attempted to facilitate the seating of the student body, and owing to the fact that individual students have their own ideas as to where and when they should sit, this task involves considerable skill and diplomacy on the part of semester.

Mr. Wilson goes on to say, "This is especially true because almost invariably each usher deals with almost entirely a different group of students at each assembly." Also, the personnel of the usher group changes to a considerable extent each semester.

Row 1: Desing, Kouri, Bason, Olson, Hornback; Row 2: Frey, Schmeltzer, Reynolds, Brandt, Montgomery, Smith, Wallace; Row 3: McRae, Roquet, Longnecker, Holt, Miller, Playle; Row 4: Houser, Ellis.

Crafts Club

The members of the Crafts Club have chosen various fields in which to work. Some are working with clay, others have chosen to make articles out of plastics, and still others have taken up wood carving. And, as an addition to its regular activities, the organization is planning to give a party for its members.

This semester the club has seventeen members. The officers are Dick Stonier, president; Russell Stonier, vice-president; Joan Smith, secretary; and Mary Katherine O'Boyle, treasurer.

Dance Band

"Hot," "solid," and "on the beam" are a few of the adjectives used in describing East High's popular swing band. Consisting of ten members, the band plays for Leezur Hours, and other social events. Leading the band this semester is maestro Jack Rhodes who also plays the trumpet.

Custodians

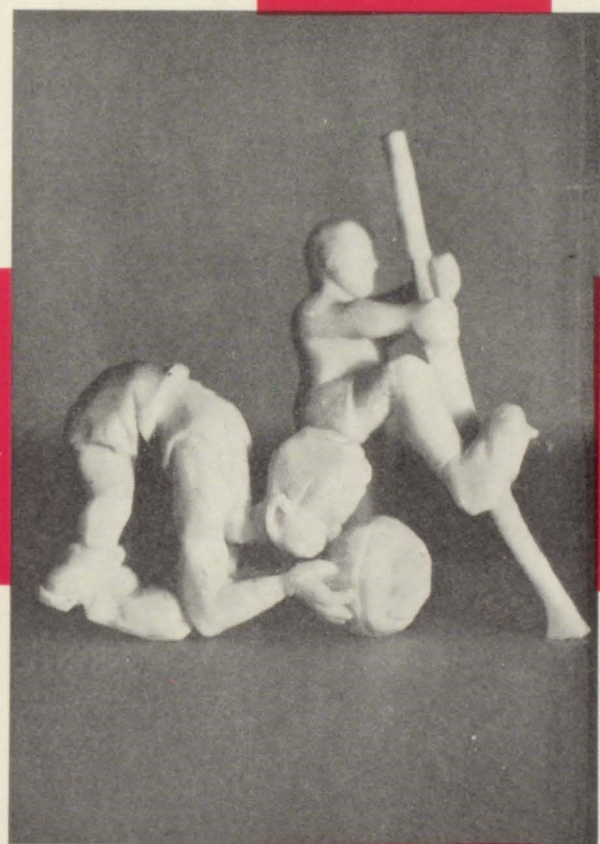

To the janitors go the tasks of keeping our buildings and grounds in tip-top condition. They are constantly striving to make every possible improvement upon our school and its surroundings. Without their efforts our building would indeed furnish unpleasant surroundings in which to carry on our studies and activities.

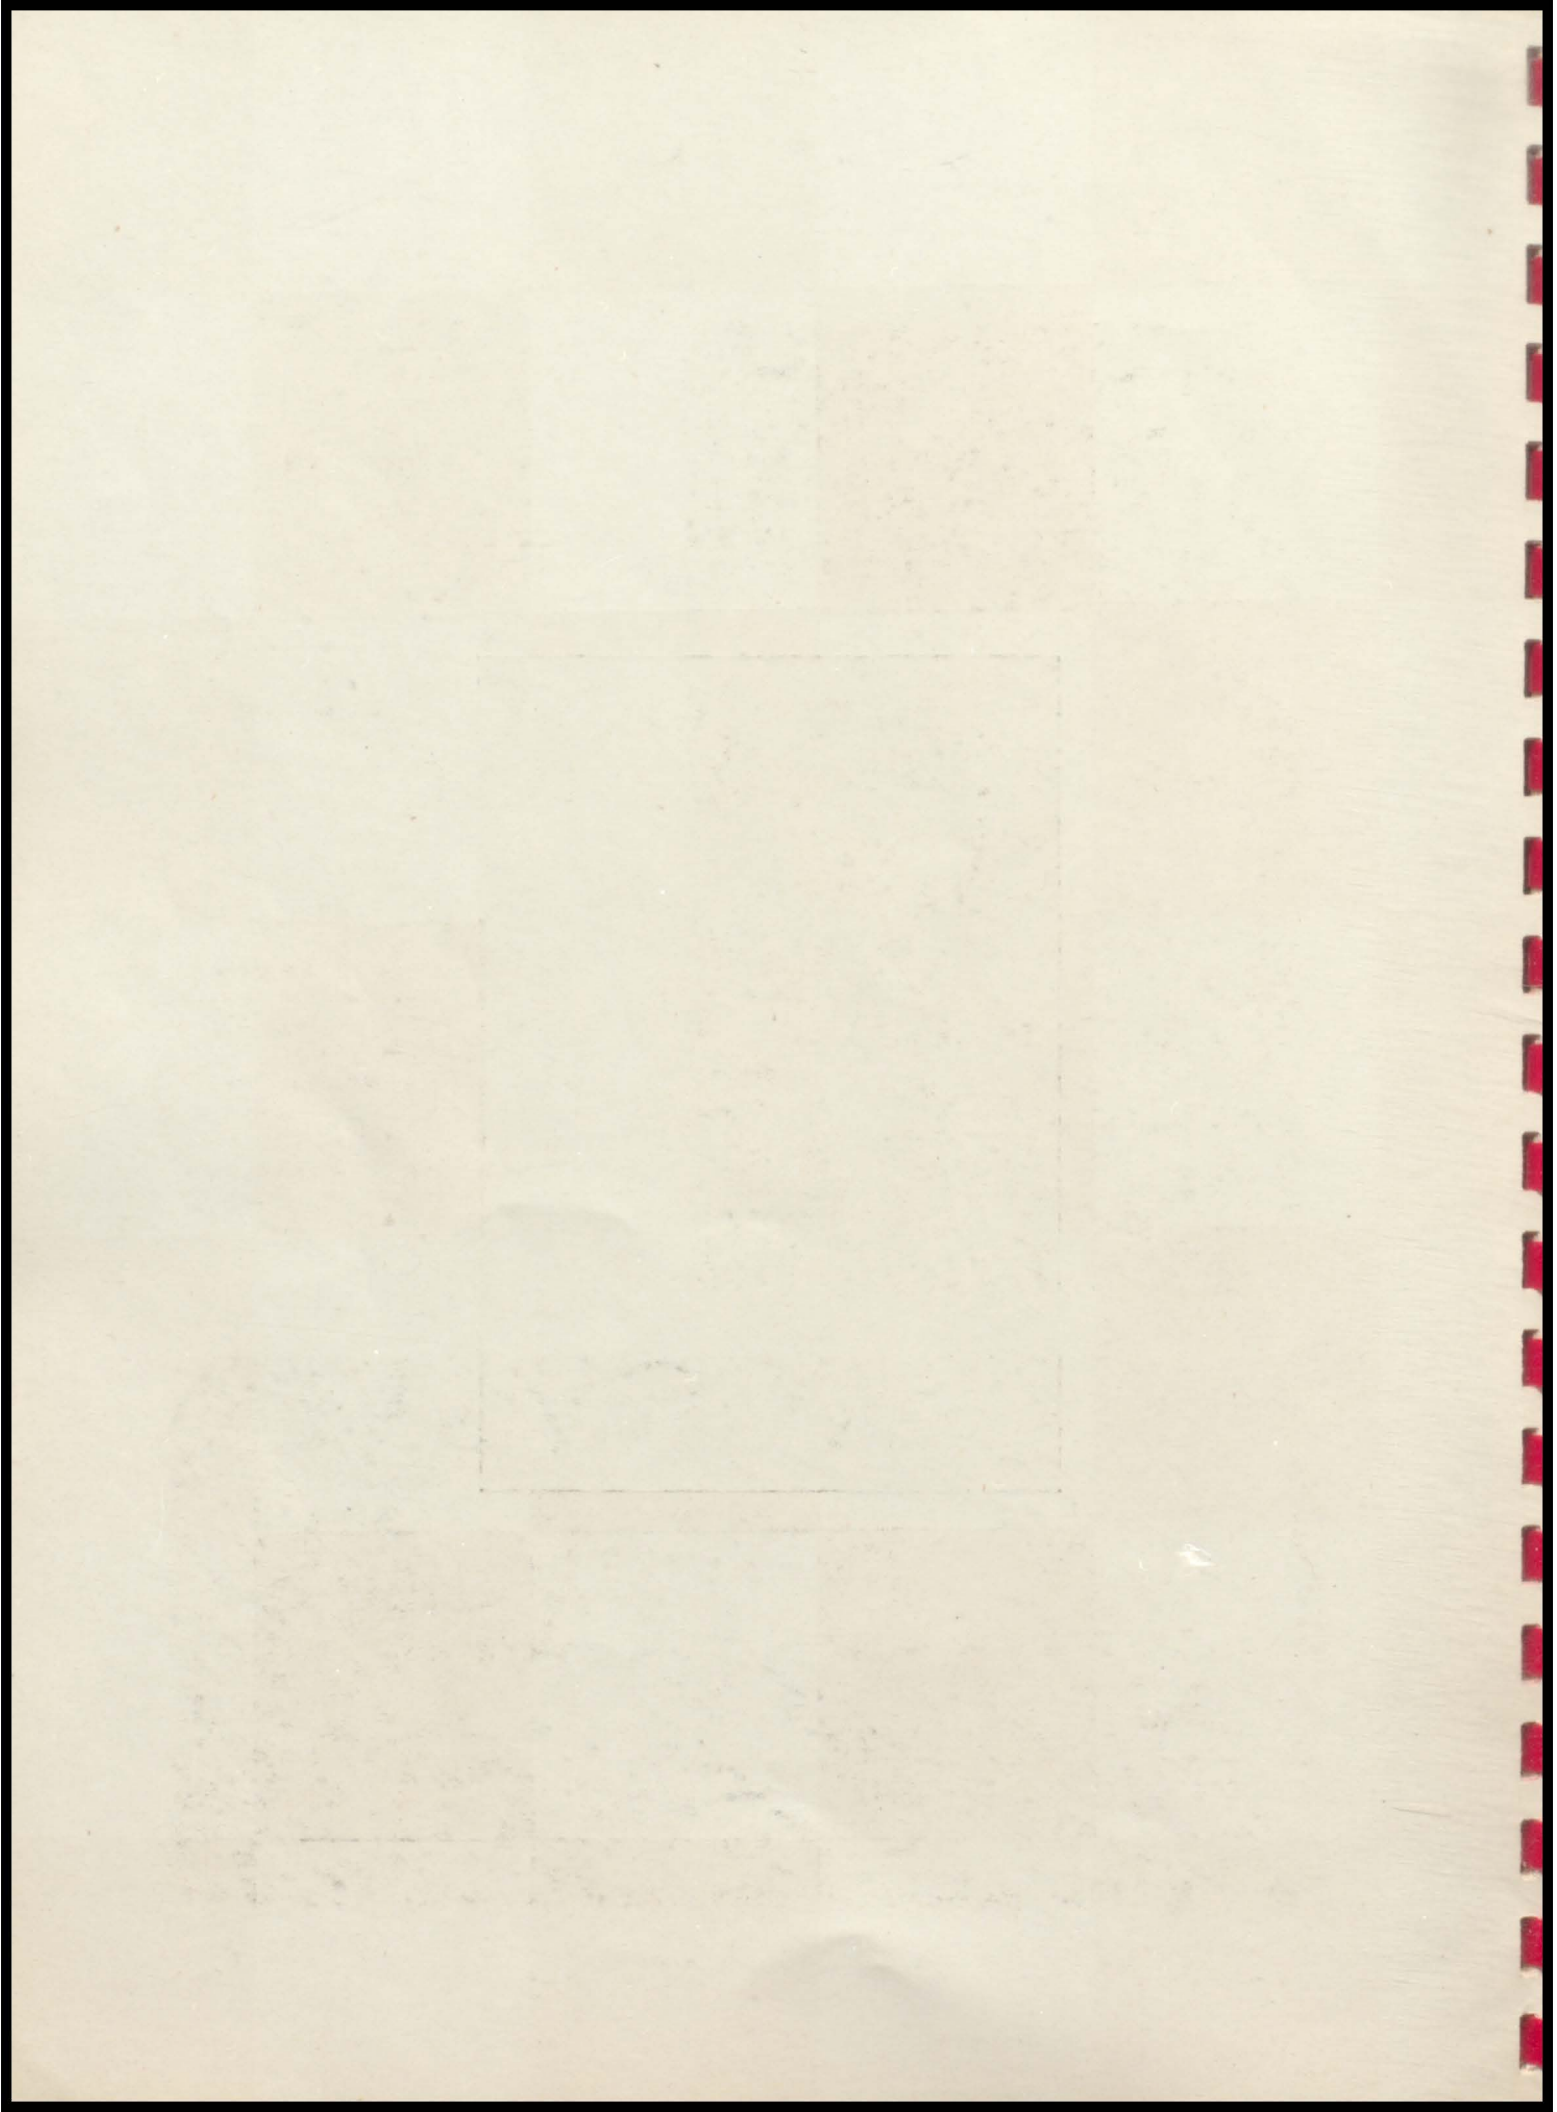

We should consider ourselves very fortunate in having such an excellent staff of janitors to service our school.

The man entrusted with the responsibility of seeing that things run smoothly is Mr. William Edwards. There are ten other men who also hold positions as janitors in our school. We should at all times give them our fullest co-operation.

Gym Monitors

With an unholy mob of boys all screaming at them at once, "Gimme my pants," it is a wonder that the gym monitors don't grow grey when young. From the stacks of baskets they have to select the right ones with lightning speed to satisfy their screaming charges. And then—no sooner do they clean up the debris during the class period than the whole herd comes stampeding down to throw baskets, clothes, and almost anything else at, in, and around the cage. Then at last, the weary monitors dig themselves out and sit down to regain sufficient strength to trudge upstairs and into Mr. Whitlock's arms. Truly, they are men of steel!

TRACK

Our track boys, clad in those outstanding shorts, get out there and show other schools just what East High is. After turning on the heat, they almost literally "run the pants off" their competitors. It is true that they have had some tough meets, but they always manage to hoist our colors to the top.

After putting hours of practice in every night, the boys go home and still train, that is, by getting to bed on time and by eating the right foods. Our team is seldom seen out late. Each man seems to have special events and becomes proficient in them. By their unceasing efforts and unconquerable spirit, they have done much to fill our trophy case with those glittering statues of honor.

CROSS COUNTRY

Seemingly, legs with perpetual motion, lungs with an ever functioning air supply, and well-distributed stamina make up the boys who run the cross country races. Yet they're just as human as anyone except that they run long hours after school throughout the year in order to keep their iron bodies and legs in shape.

Row 2: Smith, Williams, Enga, Van-DeVan.

FIELD EVENTS

Each Hercules of the school finds it a pleasant task to show his ability in the field events. The discus and football throw, the shotput, the high jump and broad jump make up the field events that catch the interest of these fellows. Their achievements, in turn, catch the eyes of the spectators, who appreciate their fine work.

First Basketball Team

For the first time in history, East's basketball team won the Sectional Title. This shows, in contrast to the schedule, that East High's shooters are good ball players in the clinches. Too, East High has the honor of having a city scoring champion in Marty Carlson. In all, a basketball team worthy to wear the colors of East High.

Second Basketball Team

Our second basketball team turned in one of their best seasons because of their hard work and fine skill. These boys worked regularly every night after school. They practiced right along with the first team and went through the same muscle-tearing body contortions.

After the full day of school, you can see these boys hurriedly filing into the dressing room. There they run up to the cage window and get their equipment. After climbing into their togs, they make their way into the gym to sweat and strain like professionals.

Not only do they train like professionals, but they also play ball like them. On the nights of games the boys let up on practice and have a little pep talk. We don't know just what they say, but we do know that they come to the game with spirits that can't be beaten. They are constantly in there battling.

No matter what the score, these boys keep up the good sportsmanship taught them by their coach, "Mike" Augustine. Although their height may be small, many times smaller than that of their opponents, the team manages to, literally, "whittle 'em down to their own size." Since these fellows are the prospects for our next year's team, we have a bright future to look forward to.

MR. GLENN WHITLOCK
Physical Education

WRESTLING

The gruelling course of bone-cracking, muscle pulling, and skin squeezing is known as wrestling. The participants in this game are of a rugged nature, equal to the qualifications which the sport demands, conditioning themselves, which is to say running, doing calisthenics, learning fundamental holds, and engaging in intra-mural wrestling. The winners of the inner squad matches are then qualified to go to the regular matches against other schools.

This year's wrestling squad captured the city title. Six of the boys who are city champs are Holsinger, Pike, Rife, Fitch, Englund and Burton. Besides winning the city title, a few of the boys won honors in the District meet.

As almost all this year's team will be back next year, Coach Gregory expects to yield big dividends then. So, many thanks to the iron boys who struggled for East.

BOYS' TENNIS

These peppy youths, skilled at the sport in which they participate, are known as our tennis team. These fine lads work up their sweat right out there in the sun. When fate is against them, through the weather, the boys work out in the gym.

Theirs is not a sport that is forgotten during the vacation. Led by a fine coach, Mr. Gewerth, the boys ended the season with flying colors. The skill with which they handled their rackets is a result of their never-ceasing efforts.

GOLF

These swinging, swashbuckling boys of East High are the golfers. With their irons and cleats they trudge over the rolling course night after night.

Theirs is an adventurous game, always something new. Sand pits, water holes or just plain obstacles are in the most unwanted places. But nevertheless, the golfers enjoy the game and as time goes, their games improve. Not the best maybe, but just as good as the rest is truly a fitting statement, applicable to the golf team. Mr. Gewerth is the instructor.

SWIMMING

While East High has seen better years, as far as swimming is concerned, it still retains the fighting spirit of past years.

Scotty Russell, widely-known coach is able as ever in his line. However, he, as well as the boys, is handicapped without a regulation pool. As a result of this, a new pool is in the future plans.

The boys on the swimming team, void of much following, receive as their compensation the fun of swimming. And it is fun to master coordination, which makes a good paddler.

Yes, the sleek swimmers of East High have fun in their long working hours, and it is said that if more of East's talent would take their try at swimming, East would once again rise to the top of swimming honors.

Athletic Managers

These untiring boys are the "Cage Monkeys" of East High. They serve the athletic squads every day from three to the time of dismissing the athletes. Laboriously they hand out the needed equipment, act nursemaid to the ailing boys, and do any other odd job that no one else wishes to do.

About their only compensation is the trips that they are allowed to take with the athletic squads.

The sports department of East High is glad to have these boys do the tasks that are needful to do.

Cheerleaders

These are the three, who, clad in the colors so well represented by them, led the cheers which spurred our warriors on to victory.

No matter what the weather, what the game or what the score, these leather-lunged boys are out there giving their all. The cheerleaders also do a very fine job in the spirited pep assemblies.

If you could have seen them about a year ago trying out for the team, you would not have recognized them as the same three spirited youths. This year's team ranks with the best of our previous teams, which are always the best.

Girls' Gym Monitors

The gym has a force of faithful girls who take care of the baskets in the dressing room. These girls are Dorothy Briggs, Betty Morales, Lorraine Christenson, and Delores Campbell, first period; Margaret Morris, Winona Frazier, and Barbara Shepherd, second period; Roberta Binks, Mary Dunguy, Joan Andrews, and Jean Andrews, third period; Jo Ann Evans, Helen Case, and Lizzie Coe, fourth period; Joan Gabel, Mary Lou Diskin, Margaret Brown and Susan Baker, fifth period. Mary Jean Currier is another girl who works in Miss Spencer's office.

Girls' Athletic Association

Physical education plays a leading role in this women's world. The women's military services, as well as the home front, need girls who are physically fit and able to take it.

To develop skill in some sport, to be with their friends, or just to have fun, many girls come out for G. A. A. They take part in such sports as basket ball, ping pong, and Recreo-Swim.

Monograms and numerals are awarded for points earned in after-school activities. Points are also earned by outside activities such as skating, horse back riding, hiking, and other sports.

The G. A. A. officers for this semester are: Phyllis Franklin, president; Marjorie Jenkins, vice-president; Marian Koppes, secretary; and Maxine Gunn, publicity secretary. The G. A. A. holds two meetings a semester. At the last meeting, numerals and monograms are awarded for points earned during the semester.

TUMBLING

The rope and tumbling team continues to be a favored activity among the East High girls who come out for G. A. A. Last semester the girls worked on individual stunts. This semester they practiced group formations. The girls practice tumbling Monday nights after school. The receive G. A. A. credit for this participation.

The team presented a snappy act for the Vodvil Varieties show. In their new red suits with black trim, they went through forward and backward rolls, cart wheels, rope tricks, and the like.

The girls also put on a show for the Golf and Country Club.

TENNIS

Nine ambitious girls made up this year's tennis team. Three of the girls, Gloria Codner, Joan Cowen, and Catherine Appell, have been out for tennis since their sophomore year. Dorothy Reuter and Maxine Lewis are the only members of the team who are not a Senior A.

These girls spend a great deal of time and effort in perfecting their game. While it is too early at the time of writing to predict just what will happen during the season, it is the belief of the Quill sports editors that they will give an excellent account of themselves—perhaps winning the city championship.

QUILL CALENDER - - JUNE '44

Mon., Jan. 31: Sign of a new semester—An auditorium full of 10B's sitting in guileless innocence while the upperclassmen put on superior expression No. 2 and prowl majestically around.

Tues., Feb. 1: Just think! Only 129 days till the end of the semester!

Wed. 2: At this point, every Quill for umpteenth semesters has said, (I quote), "No clubs today", (I stop quoting).—So I'll say it, too.

Thurs. 3: It's just beginning to soak into a few of (us? we?) seniors that we really are at last (senior, I mean) and it didn't hurt a bit.

Fri. 4: New element in pep assemblies—As Marilyn McLaughlin walks on the stage, the mike is so dazzled that it fizzles and blows sparks.

Mon. 7: Miss McBride decided on the comforts of "Home Sweet Home" instead of pondering Macbeth in education's Bastile.

Tues. 8: The 11B's received the mixed blessing of getting out of classes to take a test. They spent most of the morning wondering whether to laugh or cry.

Wed. 9: Noon movie this week—"Texas"—and for free, too.

Thurs. 10: Due to the disastrous fact that we were almost snowbound in school, the Lee-Zur Hour was postponed.

Fri. 11: Orchid Dept. Tonight Frances Van Liew won the oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion. Nice going, Francie!

Mon. 14: Notice—for the purpose of corraling all of the little wanderers who are signed up for gym at Ray's and Rosie's—you had better sign up for gym this a. m.

Tues. 15: This is the place where I pause and wish I worked on any other section but one where it requires thinking of something every day.

Wed 16: Come to think of it—there might be an earnest, hard-working under-classman who'd like the job of ghost-writing.

Thurs. 17: First Lee-Zur Hour this afternoon. No new dance steps noticed but quite a few wall-leaning techniques are different.

Mon. 6: Senior List posted. Everyone gathered round the bulletin board to see what his middle name really is, and is she really going to embalming college.

Tues. 7: Sign of the times—Gene Ellis backing coyly down the hall followed by two fiendishly grinning females.

Fri 10: The auditorium sighed and swooned as they of the bulging biceps, the wrestling and swimming teams strode forth to receive their monograms.

Mon. 13: They do say every little thing helps—at least we felt very smug all day with the thought that we would get out half an hour early.

Mrs. Dracula was having a baby, and Dracula was pacing the hall as nervously and eagerly as any other father.

The nurse came in and handed him a little bundle.

"There you are, Mr. Dracula, a fine, big, baby boy," said the nurse. "You can take him home with you now."

"Oh, no," said Dracula with a diabolical ho-ho-hee-hee-ha-ha-heh-heh. "I'll eat him right here."

Forty—The age when a woman stops patting herself on the back and begins under the chin.

Small boy, (finding a snake in the field): "Hey, Momma, come here quick! Here's a tail wagging without any dog!"

If he is clean and vigorous, suitable for you and quite perfect in your opinion; if he is the man you think he is and you want him, don't put him on a pedestal and worship him as an idol.

Be sensible. Wrap him around your little finger and get a ring on the next.

Lobster-Newburg—A dish ordered at hotels by those who usually eat beans at home.

There is a New York scientist who is greatly interested in coal mining. He decided to subscribe to a press-clipping bureau, to get every new slant on coal. He said to the clipping bureau: "I want everything you can find about coal." The first clipping he got was an article about a man who was suing his wife for separation because she hit him on the head with a lump of coal.

A Texas tradesman has this pertinent sign in a conspicuous place in his store:

Man is made of dust.

Dust settles.

Be a man!

"I took that pretty girl from the store home the other night and stole a kiss."

"What did she say?"

"Will that be all?"

First Credit Man: "How about Jones of Youngstown?"

Second Credit Man: "He always pays cash, so we don't know how honest he is."

"Mother," asked Tommy, "do fairy tales always begin with 'Once upon a time'?"

"No, dear, not always; they sometimes begin with 'My love, I have been detained at the office tonight.'"

A lady's leather handbag was left in my car while parked on Park Avenue two weeks ago. Owner can have same by calling at my office, proving the property and paying for this ad. If she will explain to my wife that I had nothing to do with its being there, I will pay for the ad.

"Where do you live in the city—close in?"

"Fairly so—thirty minutes on foot, fifteen by motor-car, twenty-five by street car, and forty-five by telephone."

"You college men seem to take life easy."

"Yes; even when we graduate we do it by degrees."

LaVerne Stewart: "Some men, you know, are born great, some achieve greatness—"

Miss Snyder: "Exactly! And some just grate upon you."

"You told me to file these letters, sir," said the new yeoman.

"Yes," returned the officer.

"Well, I was just thinkin' that it'd be easier to trim 'em with a pair of scissors."

Customer: "So you've got rid of that pretty assistant you had?"

Druggist: "Yes, all my gentlemen customers kept saying that a smile from her was as good as a tonic."

Mr. Springate, in commercial class: "There is one respect in which a live business man isn't like a tree."

Everett Flagg: "What is that?"

Mr. Springate: "If he remains rooted to the spot, he can't branch out."

"Cancel my order at once," came the telegram to the factory. The owner's telegram in reply read: "Your order cannot be cancelled at once. You must take your turn."

"How is you wife this morning, Uncle Henry?"

"Well, I dunno. She's failing dretful slow. I do wish she'd git well, or somethin'."

Sidney Kurschinski: "What is a committee, Mr. Gewerth?"

Mr. Gewerth: "A committee, my boy, is something which takes a week to do what one good man can do in an hour."
